

Marcela Manubens

Senior Vice President Global Human Rights and Social Responsibility, PHILLIPS – VAN HEUSEN CORPORATION

Ms. Manubens, Senior Vice-President of Global Human Rights and Social Responsibility Program for the Phillips-Van Heusen Corporation, has created and directs the company's program on human rights and social responsibility worldwide. Since 1996, Ms. Manubens has participated in the Fair Labor Association, a tripartite initiative to eradicate sweatshops. She sits on the Board of the Fair Labor Association and is also a member of the Executive Committee.

Ms. Manubens also is an Executive Board member of the Global Social Compliance Programme (GSCP), a global platform designed to improve working conditions in the global supply chain. She was also elected to the CRO Association Board of Governors, the first professional organization for Corporate Social Responsibility in the USA.

Ms. Manubens had taught at Columbia University and at University of Belgrano (Argentina) and has been a lecturer and guest speaker at national and international conferences. Ms. Manubens has extensive working experience in multinationals.

Ms. Manubens is a member of the Women's Foreign Policy Group in Washington, DC. Ms. Manubens represented U.S. business in the launching of the Global Report on Child Labor by the ILO at the United Nations, and in 2006, Ms Manubens gave testimony in the United States Congress as an expert witness upon the invitation of the Congressional Human Rights Caucus.

Ms Manubens was a Fulbright scholarship recipient and a Halsey International Scholarship recipient, she holds an MBA from the University of Bridgeport and a Doctorship in Economics Sciences from Universidad de Belgrano, Argentina. She also attended the American University, International Service Program.